There is no prospect of immediate relief. The heat wave extends all over the East, and there is not a heavy storm or disturbance to break it in sight. The humidity in the atmosphere is due to the fact that for days the wind has been blowing in from the ocean.

A clearness of the air because of the lack of humidity made life bearable today, but the heat was killing. Two children died while the air was comparatively cool in the morning. Thousand of anxious mothers hovered over their little ones and prayed for rain.

As the sun climbed in the heavens the mercury elimbed in the heavens and froaned. They saw 30 degrees at 10 clock and 25 degrees at 10 clock. The rise of degrees between 9 and 10 clock as the heat to those employed in the big office heat to those employed in the big office building downtown, but this breeze was not felt by the tenement dwellers. Where he died.

NOLAN, MARY, eight months, of No. 497 Warren street, Brooklyn, died at home.

ROBIYSON ELIZABETH, thirteen months, No. 57 Herbert street, Brooklyn, died at home.

HILDEBRANDT, JOHN S., sixty-six, of East Ninth street, Flatbush, overcome by heat while painting his house, fell from a ladder and broke his neck.

COMODY, ANNIE, street, Robert and Complex to the same place, but Maloney dropped it, Dan taking second. Mertes then made the first hit for New York, sending a liner over second scorling McGann. Dahlen took the count. ONE RUN.

CAYOG, LOUIS, nine months, No. 202 West Thirty-sixth street, died at home.

Eleven dead from the heat and fifty or more prostrations were reported from all over the city to-day, and thousands longed for the thunder shower promised by the Weather Bureau:

Fifth Inning.

Schulte planted a neat single in left and advanced on Chance's racrifice. Tinker was calle dout on strikes and Evers was likewise treated. No RUNS. Devlin smashed a hot one at Brown. It near knocked him down, but he heaved it over to Chance in time. Casey then threw out Gilbert. A foul tip struck King, cutting a severe gash just above his for head. Though the wound bled profusely after a few minares delay the plucky little catcher went thack in the game. Bresnahan struck out. NO RUNS.

Strang batted for Gilbert and flied out to Slagle. Bresnahan singled to left, but was out trying to stretch it. Evers hrew out Matty. NO RUNS.
